The Wand Company Announces Fully Functional Pip-Boy 3000 Replica from Fallout™ 3 and Fallout™: New Vegas

Now Available for Pre-Order

Cambridge, United Kingdom and Rockville, Maryland — Nov. 14, 2025 — The Wand Company, renowned for developing highly accurate functional exhibition-grade prop replicas, proudly unveils the first-ever fully working, wearable, 1:1 replica of the Pip-Boy 3000, as seen in the critically-acclaimed titles Fallout™ 3 and Fallout™: New Vegas.

Seventeen years after Fallout 3 was first released, fans can now experience the ultimate piece of in-universe technology on their own arms. This supremely accurate, die-cast and resin Pip-Boy 3000 Replica has been faithfully developed from original Bethesda Game Studios design geometry, with additional detail drawn from the original high-poly model designed by Bethesda Game Studio Art Director, Istvan Pely.

Authentic, Wearable, and Fully Functional

Building on The Wand Company's acclaimed work producing the Fallout 76 Pip-Boy 2000 Mk VI and the Fallout Prime Video television series Pip-Boy 3000 Mk V, this new Pip-Boy 3000 Replica, combining a die-cast metal front casing, engineered ABS body, and memory-foam cuff liner, is designed for wearing or display. An IPS LCD screen faithfully replicates the look of the in-game vintage CRT interface, complete with scanlines and glitch effects, while delivering dynamic, interactive menus featuring over 2,200 entries taken directly from Fallout 3 and *Fallout: New Vegas.

The Pip-Boy 3000 has an FM radio, a bright LED flashlight, a clock with a super-dim night display mode and an alarm. This edition comes loaded up with the minigame Atomic Command, giving fans the experience of playing this iconic title on a real Pip-Boy for the first time. A rechargeable LiPo battery and USB-C port provide hours of operation or constant desktop display power.

Exhibition-Grade Craftsmanship

When not being worn, the Pip-Boy 3000 can be proudly displayed on its solid machined aluminum stand, laser-etched with the Vault-Tec logo illuminated by the Pip-Boy as it charges.

The Collectible of Collectibles for every Fallout Fan

The Fallout 3 and Fallout: New Vegas Pip-Boy represents The Wand Company's most ambitious Fallout replica to date.

“We’ve reached into the Fallout universe and pulled one of gaming’s most beloved pieces of tech right out into reality,” says Chris Barnardo, co-founder and CEO of The Wand Company. “For all Fallout fans, this Pip-Boy 3000 Replica is not just for display - it’s a dynamic, fully functional, working piece of Fallout history.”

“The Wand Company has once again blown us away with their incredible attention to detail and passion for the Fallout universe,” said David Evans, Global Licensing Director at Bethesda Softworks. “The Pip-Boy 3000 Replica isn’t just a collectible — it’s the dream of Fallout fans made real. Seeing this level of craftsmanship and interactivity brings the world of Fallout to life in a way that’s genuinely thrilling.”
